Tired of exhausting and time-consuming WG-castings to find a future flatmate or a place to live? This ends now!

RWTH Flatmating is an online event aiming at helping you find potential flatmates or subtenants in the shortest time possible.

How? By bringing together RWTH students and WGs offering a room and housing-seeking international students virtually through ice-breakers, online team and cooperative games and video calls.

Interested? Check the back side for further information about the program!

Program

Who can participate?

- RWTH students looking for an international subtenant + WG flatmates, if applicable
- RWTH international students looking for accommodation

How to participate?
